

Informed buyers are in control.
Buy. Don't be SOLD.

Media Contact:

Mark A. Carlson

520-568-8070

mcarlson@tintbuyer.com

PRESS RELEASE

Choosing window film (aka “tint”) just got easier with Tintbuyer.com!

Phoenix, Arizona – April 14, 2009 – Tintbuyer.com is a FREE proprietary web-based window film selection tool helping consumers pick the appropriate window film for their vehicle, home or business and get FREE no-obligation quotes from installers in their area.

It can be frustrating when you want to buy something but the choices and technical explanations are beyond your understanding. While services exist to help you match the right television to your needs, how do you choose the right window film?

With the free information on Tintbuyer.com and using the consumer's input, Tintbuyer.com provides letter grades for the BEST match across various manufacturer's brands. With the brands scored according to the consumer's needs, a report including product selection criteria and results can be forwarded to installers in their area with a click of their mouse – again, at NO CHARGE to the consumer.

Mark Carlson, Tintbuyer.com President says “Working for manufacturers in the window film industry for several years, it has been my passion to teach dealers and consumers how to easily choose the right product from among the hundreds of products available. To 'pay forward' what I know about window film and to benefit our industry, I had a choice to make - either I place a phone call to all 111,162,259 households in the United States or I put the information on the internet and hope a bunch of people find it!”

More information about Tintbuyer.com can be found at www.tintbuyer.com or by emailing info@tintbuyer.com.

About Tintbuyer.com

Tintbuyer.com is a comprehensive window film services company offering FREE information to consumers and fee-based consulting when requested. It is the mission of Tintbuyer.com to improve the consumer's experience and the window film industry's reputation through accurate technical information packaged in an understandable way.

Tintbuyer.com also offers specific programs for Car Dealerships and Interior Designers – leveraging its proprietary window film selection tool to increase confidence in car buyers and homeowners that the recommended window film is appropriate for their specific needs.